

Sam Carr - MRF 2017

Personally, the confidence that built while being a part of the MRF was invaluable - it allowed me to progress in a style of composition that I may not otherwise have continued to pursue. The support that was given through the workshops allowed volumes of growth; mainly by a variety of suggestions in ways to think about my own work and thought processes.

The link below is my SoundCloud page, with the work that I have written and recorded while studying at Trinity Laban.

<https://soundcloud.com/sam-carr-55719380>